Enhanced Learning) courses. This will not only provide access to high-quality education and skill development of student and faculty, but will also offer a variety of courses in a range of areas, facilitating chances for ongoing teaching and learning outside of typical classroom settings.

3.2 Prof. Paul further added that the increasing involvement will equip the students with modern skills that are in high demand across sectors. This will not only broaden their knowledge but also improve their employability.

3.3 Prof. Basu said that this practice will encourage lifelong learning supporting both professional and personal development in a rapidly changing world.

Agenda 4: Aptitude classes during pandemic

4.1 The Chair informed that the institute has persevered in offering online grooming and aptitude classes for students.

4.2 The house agreed that these efforts will help to prepare students for online campus interviews, ensuring they approach these opportunities with confidence and skill.

Agenda 5: Virtual Laboratories

5.1 The committee deliberated on strategies to improve the perception and effectiveness of virtual labs to ensure the seamless continuation of practical learning.

5.2 The Chair specifically highlighted the successful implementation of virtual labs to uphold the institute's academic standards.

Agenda 6: Continuous assessment and end semester examination

6.1 The Chair informed that the online mode of classes and end semester examination system will be continued till further notice from the University. In this regard, Prof. Pandey is advised to exercise caution for guaranteeing impartiality, consistency in assessing student performance, and upholding academic standards as per MAKAUT's examination criteria in spite of difficult conditions.

The meeting ended with thanks to the Chair.
